Soviets Plan to Launch Rockets Into Pacific

Target Area Set For 1,000 Miles Southeast of Hawaii

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets plan to lob anew series of powerful multistage test rockets into the central Pacific next month about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii.

An announcement Tuesday night said the new rocket shoot will be held July 5-31 over a 50,000-square mile target area about 150 miles farther to the southeast than the landing area of the first Soviet Pacific rocket tests last January.

In their first test the Soviets said they fired a rocket some 7,000 miles and came within a mile of the target. The United States subsequently fired a super-Atlas rocket 9,000 miles from Cape Canaveral past the southern tip of South Africa.

The Soviet Union warned other nations to keep their ships and planes out of the test area, which lies about 200 miles west of American-held Palmyra Island and within 600 miles of Christmas Island, where the British touched off their first hydrogen bomb.

Tass news agency, which issued the announcement, said the rocket used in the July tests will not be equipped with the final stage. This apparently meant they will not carry warheads.

The announcement came a few hours after Premier Nikita Khrushchev called on a group of Soviet military school cadets to "master the conditions of a rocket and nuclear war which is the imperialist aggressors are preparing."

The Premier declared the Soviet armed forces should increase their vigilance in case the "imperialists" unleash a new war.

Khrushchev told the audience in the White and Gold Kremlin hall his hearty welcome to the new blood in the armed forces might seem strange while his government was calling for disarmament.

"We do this," he said, "so our glorious armed forces will be a shield for our country and all Socialist countries."

"It is not contradictory because our army is not an aggressive army. Our army is a people's army defending peace."

Mine Blast In England Fatal to 45

ABERTILLERY, Wales (AP) — Rescue teams slowly moved to the surface today with the bodies of 45 miners killed in an explosion 1,000 feet below ground in a south Wales coal mine.

The dead lay in a mile-wide pocket of lethal carbon monoxide gas.

The explosion Tuesday came with a flash and a roar, dumping tons of rock as 700 men worked on the morning shift.

Some men died in their tracks, victims of flash fire. Others crouched in refuge manholes, only to suffocate from the deadly gas.

Four men escaped miraculously with severe burns. Said one of them, 43-year-old Harold Legge:

"There was a road and a flash. I could not see for the cloud of thick, swirling dust. I couldn't breathe. I stumbled toward the pit bottom. I passed someone lying dead."

Retarded Children's Council Views Film

Movies of an Indiana school for retarded youngsters were screened at a meeting of the Columbian County Retarded Children's Council Tuesday night at Lisbon.

The school is one sponsored by p. 's on a county level and includes two classes—one for young children and another for older youngsters.

The trustees of the county unit will inspect the former frame school at Elton July 14 for utilization by the council. The Beaver Local Board of Education has authorized George VanHorne, executive head, to arrange an agreement with the council on using the structure.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, spoke on plans for obtaining information and details of youngsters for the fall term. Tests will be administered by Cornell Monda of Lisbon the week of July 1.

The next meeting will be July 19 when plans will be made for the annual fund drive late next month.

Rockefeller Calls Health Bill Shaky

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller carried his running argument with the Eisenhower administration into the field of medical aid for the elderly today.

Already involved in a Republician ruckus over his criticisms of defense policies, the New York

governor invited another fracas

by denouncing as "fiscally unsound" an administration measure to subsidize the health insurance of needy persons over 65 years old.

Rockefeller called, in a discussion paper for a final day governors' conference panel on problems of the aging, for congressional passage of a bill to finance health insurance payments for the elderly through social security payroll taxes.

Rockefeller opposed the "means test" in the administration bill as likely to require "cumbersome and costly administrative mechanisms in all 50 states."

He proposed setting up a "health benefit trust fund" financed by a one-half per cent increase each for employees and employers in payroll taxes. Each social security beneficiary would have the option of receiving health services or a check to meet part of the cost of outside health insurance he carried.

Ready to close up their conference shop for the year, the governors were reported leaning toward Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado, a Democrat, as their new chairman to succeed GOP Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware.

In their usual discussion of highway matters, the governors got a proposal from publisher William Randolph Hearst Jr. of Leetonia. All of the cars were damaged considerably.

Kraft was charged with unsafe operation.

Patrolmen said Kraft suffered bruise of the face an chest and possible fractured ribs and Little, a possible fractured nose and chest bone.

L'son Post State Highway Patrol reported cars driven by Berard Conners, 27, of North Canton, and Marcia Myers, 19, of RD 2, Minerva, collided at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday, on Rt. 30 about five miles east of Minerva, when the Myers car went left of center.

She was charged with driving left of center.

Veto Schultz, 49, of Templeton, Pa., was charged with reckless operation at 7:35 p. m. Tuesday on Rt. 170, a half mile north of Rt. 30, when he attempted to make a U-turn and collided with a car driven by Gary McDevitt, 19, of RD 2, East Liverpool.

A car driven by Judith Lovejoy, 17, of RD 2, Leetonia, was damaged slightly when it hit a bad spot in the road and went into a ditch on Worman Rd. just off Rt. 164. The accident occurred at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Reporting on the progress of the company's new plant being built at Rogers, Ark., Mr. Deming explained that "industrial business which looked promising in January has now leveled out."

"While industrial pump orders continue to come in nicely, we find competition much stronger. Prices have weakened considerably in a number of industrial pump lines. Notwithstanding this, we are on the lookout for additional design engineers so that our industrial line can be expanded here. The sales department has been enlarged."

In connection with the Rogers, Ark., plant, Mr. Deming announced that Kenneth Hoyt will manage the new operation and that John Kerr will succeed Mr. Hoyt as assistant plant manager here. Clifford Ayers will become foundry superintendent.

"We are most hopeful that the layoffs can be kept to a minimum or that those laid off can be re-employed later. It all depends on general business conditions, he pointed out.

DRUNKEN DRIVER FINED

LISBON — Ralph E. Goddard, 31, of 170 Vernia St., East Liverpool, was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail at a hearing this morning before Mayor Dean Stockman on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was cited by village police just after midnight on the village streets.

Chinese Forces Kill 1, Capture 15 Nepalis

Attack Made After Signing Friendship Treaty In March

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Premier B. P. Koirala said today that a Nepali border patrol officer has been killed and 15 Nepalis captured by Chinese Communist forces operating on the border of Tibet.

His statement corrected an earlier official announcement that 15 had been killed and 12 captured in the incident last week at Mustang.

Mustang lies in a valley of northwest Nepal projecting into Tibet.

The government said the Chinese fired without provocation.

Home Minister H. P. Upadhyaya told the lower house of Parliament that a strong protest has been filed with Peiping, which signed a treaty of friendship with Koirala's government in March.

Koirala was interviewed after the announcement of the incident. Referring to the latest message from Mustang he said: "Only one man, a Nepali checkpoint officer, was killed by Chinese bullets and 15 Nepali nationals were arrested."

Last August the Chinese captured a checkpoint in the Indian Northeast Frontier Agency, killing three men. The Reds claimed the post was in Tibet. In October an Indian patrol was ambushed inside territory claimed by India. But Red China said the patrol invaded Tibetan territory and attacked.

One report several months ago said Chinese troops had penetrated the Mustang area and had tried to collect taxes from peasants.

The Nepal government announced Tuesday night it had received a note from Peiping admitting the first time the renewal of rebellion in Tibet. The note said it had been necessary to send troops into the 12½-mile zone along the Tibetan-Nepalese border which a temporary border agreement on March 21 had demilitarized.

Peiping assured Katmandu the Chinese troops would not violate Nepal's territory and would be withdrawn when the rebellion was crushed.

In New Delhi, the Times of India today reported that an estimated 200,000 Tibetan nomads—half of them armed—are fighting their way through Chinese forces from eastern to western Tibet.

The report, for which there was no official confirmation, said the nomad force from northeast Tibet included an estimated 10,000 fighting men, mainly cavalry and armed with American, Japanese and Chinese rifles.

No Vendor's License, Man Draws $25 Fine

Howard Miller, operator of the Dairy Queen at 1001 W. State St., charged on two counts of making retail sales without having a vendor's license, pleaded guilty in Mayor Dean Crammer's court Tuesday and was fined $25 and costs on each charge. The second fine was suspended.

George Newhard, representative of the Department of Taxation, Division of Sales and Highway Use Tax, signed the complaints, one on June 8 and the second on June 10.

The defendant purchased a vendor's license on July 11, Mr. Newhard said.

Two Are Fined After Guilford Lake Arrests

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Republican Gov. John E. Davis' razor-thin lead over Quentin Burdick, Democratic congressman, was dwindling steadily today in the North Dakota special senatorial election.

With returns reported from 1,523 of the state's 2,310 precincts, the unofficial tabulations showed:

Davis—30,082.

Burdick—76,764.

Returns from the farm areas, reporting hours after the cities, cut deeply into the governor's early lead. At one time, he was more than 8,000 votes ahead of Burdick and coasting along with a comfortable 56 per cent of the total ballot.

But as the figures from the outlying rural areas came in, Democrats predicted a Burdick victory by as much as 5,000 votes.

"We've got it in the bag," said Scott Anderson, Democratic campaign director. "It's only a matter of time."

Davis, however, said he was still confident of victory.

"We were worried for a while,"

Senate Defeats Baseball Bill

Deals Blow to Any Continental League

NEW YORK (AP) — Has the death knell sounded for the Continental League?

Or is an all-out baseball war in the making?

President Branch Rickey and Bill Shea, founding father of the Continental League, were mapping their plans today in the face of the most discouraging blow to hit the new league yet.

The Senate Tuesday night killed a bill to open major league rosters to an unrestricted draft. This was the key to the success of the Continental League, which had hoped to start operations next year.

"It was a bad blow," admitted Shea. "But we still haven't given up. We've got to consider our plans a little longer before we decide what course to follow."

The bill would have made players owned by the major leagues subject to unrestricted draft once a year except for 40 on each club's roster. It would apply to players with four years' service in the minors.

Six weeks ago, Shea admitted that the Continental League had only two choices if the bill failed to go through—declare war or quit.

Even if the Continental League—which still doesn't have a player under contract—managed to jam the bill through in Washington, another big stumbling block appeared no closer to settlement than when negotiations first started.

That was the issue of indemnity for the cities that were taken over. In the International League, it was to be Buffalo and Toronto. The IL demanded $750,000 each and the Continental League offered $60,000.

The top brass in the majors was pleased with the death of the bill.

"It was a bad piece of legislation," said Commissioner Ford Frick. "It would have hurt the Continental League as well as the National and American leagues."

AME Zion Church Has Dinner For Minister

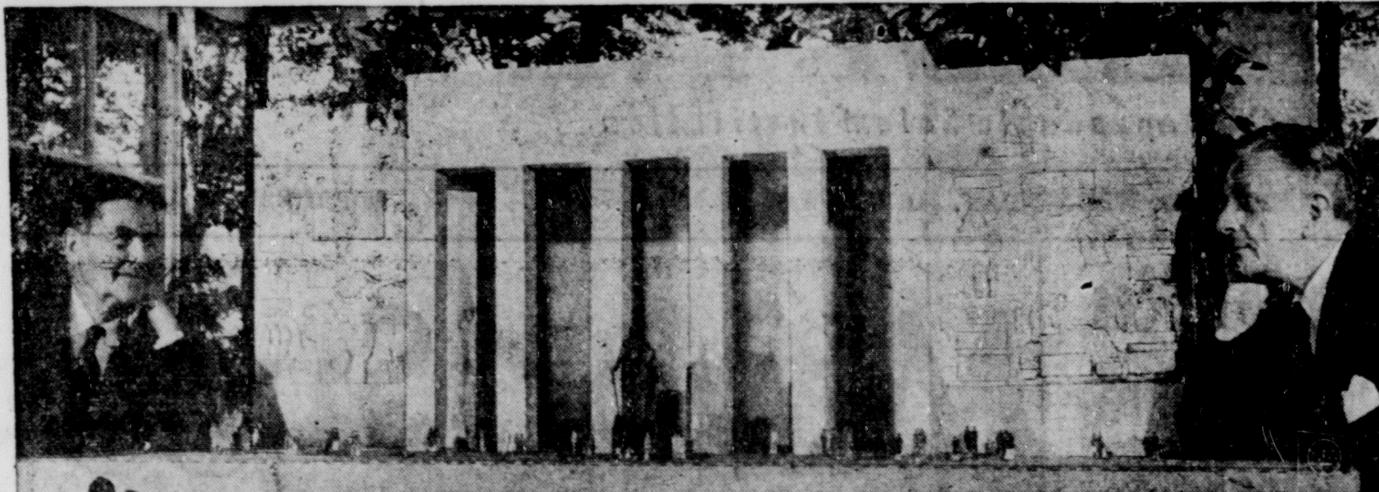

The Rev. E. L. Atchison, pastor of the AME Zion Church and his wife were honored at a banquet Saturday evening in the church. The Atchisons left Tuesday for Cleveland where they will attend the annual conference.

There were approximately 50 in attendance, with Dr. E. W. Gast, presiding elder of the Ohio District, the Rev. and Mrs. Tipp of Chicago, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Huddleston of Salem and A. P. George of Akron as special guests.

Mrs. John Alexander was mistress of ceremony for the following program: Welcome, Mrs. Thomas Rice; an original poem, "The All Mighty Eye," Mr. George; song by the church choir; selection of religious poems by Mrs. Ruth Thornwell; monologue, "Three Stages of Married Life," Mrs. Emily Kearse; an remarks by the guests.

Gifts were presented to Rev. Atchison and Dr. Gast.

The Missionary Society, with Mrs. Morell Massey as president, was hostess for the banquet.

GIANT MONUMENT PROPOSED FOR CAPITAL — Eric Gugler, left, the architect of the proposed Freedom Shrine, and Harry T. Thompson, superintendent of National Capital Parks, examine a model of the structure at Gugler's studio in Sneden's Landing, N.Y. The 24-million-dollar monument would be built on federal park land overlooking the Potomac River adjoining Arlington National Cemetery.

It is designed as a large open court, about 327 feet long, 204 feet wide and 68 feet high. Its walls feature reliefs and inscriptions recording the history of American democracy. If the project wins congressional approval, half the funds necessary would be appropriated by the government, the rest by public subscription. Some opposition to the structure, which has been described as "a tired cliché," is developing.

Capitalism Poses Problem For The Communist Economy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Third of a Series)

In a corner of the enormous, sprawling building of GUM, Moscow's central department store, Red Square and the gloomy Lenin-Stalin tomb, a sign advertises items that can be bought on installments.

These include photography equipment, motor bikes, electric sewing machines, refrigerators, other high-priced goods.

The ordinary Russian would have to save his money for a long time in order to be able to pay cash. Now all he has to do is to bring a statement signed by his superior, testifying to his employment and income. Deductions will be made automatically from his wages. The stores are all operated by the government.

This is only one of the multiplying manifestations of what may be a burgeoning Soviet problem: What to do about creeping capitalism?

The Soviet Premier soon may be, if he is not now, in an unavoidable position so far as his popularity is concerned. The process of social change has been going on for years in the Soviet Union; has been building something similar to a middle class—sober, intelligent and eager better itself.

Relaxations, veering away from the police state since Stalin died, hastened social change to a point where it seemed to be getting out of hand. Khrushchev, in spite of himself, may be forced to try to halt the process.

The planned Soviet economy bases itself on quantity production. Quality belongs to the apex of the economy, where the talents, riches and energy of the state are poured into massive heavy industry, arms, missiles, Sputniks and other means of enhancing political authority.

To attack merchandising problems in a rigidly controlled Communist economy, authorities resort to capitalist methods: installment selling, credit, more and more advertising, store windows blossoming with special sales announcements and slashed list prices, new neon signs flickering over Moscow proclaiming the virtues of a variety of products.

In short, many a consumer is sick of shoddy goods. He would rather have quality goods than mere money. On the books, continues the Rev. E. L. Atchison.

COLLISION KILLS 1

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus area man was killed and his wife seriously injured when their car collided with a panel truck at Bellbrook-Fairfield Road and U.S. 23 Tuesday night. Dead is William R. Neiswender, 52, of Grove City.

Temperatures were on the mug side from the central plains into the Southeast. Readings in the 70s and 80s were common. The 50s and 60s were reported along the northern border.

Edgar Allan Poe became a sergeant major in the Army, but he refused to follow the discipline of West Point to become a commissioned officer.

Peacemaking a Crime?

Why did the President of the United States have to use prime evening television time to make excuses for peacemaking?

What crazy warping of public opinion pressured him into apologizing for his efforts to ease world tensions by personal diplomacy?

Why does this proud man whose integrity is above question have to go through a performance that made his admirers squirm and gave his political enemies a chance to chortle, "What did you think of Ike and his lame excuses?"

WE WELCOME the privilege of saying what we think of Ike — and his excuses, which were not lame.

He had to go through this sad performance because partisan opposition in this election year is making a hot issue out of popular disappointment over the President's peace drive.

This drive was to have been the crowning project of his public career. He wanted to be known as the chief executive who spared no effort in behalf of international understanding.

To that end, he was willing to use his own worldwide popularity and the dignity of the presidential office to carry his good-will message to the people of other countries whenever their politicians would receive him.

He was America's answer to the problem of what to do about the globe-trotting of Nikita Khrushchev. The Eisenhower administration was more than a match for the reigning authoritarians of the Kremlin. Eisenhower and Nixon could take on Khrushchev and any associate he selected.

The tough thing turned out to be that the Kremlinites knew this, too.

They did not want to continue a competition in which they were destined to lose their shirts, prestige and eventually their power.

So they cooked up another one of their conspiracies to louse up the Eisenhower administration's peace crusade. Here was a show they had to get off the road before it ruined them.

LUCK WAS with them on their first move—the blowup of the summit meeting in Paris. This was to have been followed by a visit to the Soviet Union by President Eisenhower. The U2 hysteria played into the Communists'

Tale of Two Colonies

Practically everybody who is anybody is talking about Africa these days. That is where the big challenge exists for a showdown between East and West in guiding vast economic, social and political changes.

The immediate challenge is in finding the solutions to the problems that are arising in Africa. A couple of current developments there illustrate the magnitude of the problems.

On the one hand, there is Algeria, a colony so sophisticated, so highly developed that many Frenchmen consider it just another province of France and the rebels argue that they have all the human resources required to run an independent nation. Algeria has been the scene of the longest and bloodiest war for independence fought to date on the continent of Africa.

On the other hand, there is the Belgian Congo, which is going to get its independence next Thursday whether it is ready for it or not. Independence was first talked about in the Congo only three or four years ago. Among the natives who will be taking over the new government there are 12 senior civil servants and 16 university graduates.

Once Over

Sen. Lyndon Johnson has come out against critics of Ike for playing golf. White House job has such tremendous stresses and strains that a President must find ample relaxation, says Democratic leader dissociating himself from party lambasters of Ike on the links.

Lyndon is right. Almost all Presidents have had sports hobbies, mostly fishing, although Teddy Roosevelt starred as a horseman, hunter and boxer.

But golf has big advantages. In this game a little white ball can take a President's mind off the big globe for a brief spell. A cup on a green can eclipse a harrowing administration's problem. A par hole can shake a week's worries off his mind.

When Ike heads for the links, the dreams of a good score can make global problems do a fast fadeout. In the locker room, as he prepares for action, he can forget Khrushchev. As he grabs his bag and starts for the first tee, Fidel Castro seems to take a "powder."

A wooden tee becomes more important than an iron curtain. As a President places a ball on it and gazes hopefully down a beautiful fairway, his mind brushes off press conferences, impending fire-side chats, global travels and news of trouble and disaster.

If he gets off a good drive it does him more good than doctors, helpful cabinet advice, vitamins and favorable editorials. Even if he books a long one into the rough there comes this reassuring thought that, after all, it does not involve a Moscow missile threat, a dangerous budget or a switch in policy.

Let him get into a sand trap and it's a break compared to White House cares. There are no student rioters bheind a bunker. From no waterhole comes a cry, "How about another summit meeting?" A President needs fresh air, fun, relaxation and exercise.

Oh, Just a Few Little Things I Bought

A Test of Ability

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Among those people whose business it is to appraise the services of senators and representatives, both Senators Kennedy and Symington rate very low marks. On the other hand, Sen. Johnson, another hopeful, rates very high.

This was the judgment of 50 Washington correspondents who were polled by Newsweek Magazine. A poll of this kind is very significant because the Washington corps of newspapermen is not only continuously on the job watching things but they have the confidences of the members, themselves and know how they rate their colleagues.

No only is Congress the best of training schools in politics and government but each house is a closely knit club in which members work together many months in every year.

The members heard about most in the home states and districts are not usually the ones who get the work done in Congress.

Citizen Favors Income Tax

As a private citizen who has been attending City Council meetings throughout the past ten years, it behooves me to write in behalf of the proposed income tax.

If the income tax ordinance is passed, it has been suggested the mayor will veto the measure. Since this is the present mayor's second term, he surely must be aware of the critical financial situation in the city face.

If the measure goes to the public on a referendum, can the voters truthfully say they are fully informed regarding the city's plight? Can they honestly state they would be unwilling to pay $6 per each $1,000 they earn to bring their city into a more up-to-date condition? Can each of these

Political In-Fighting

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ground Swell for Johnson Is Significant

There's a battle going on behind the scenes that could decide who gets the Democratic presidential nomination. The public generally isn't aware of the struggle.

The results of the inside fighting, moreover, are not always visible to the naked eye. But the tacticians working vigorously in behalf of Sen. John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson are playing their respective trump cards with all the resourcefulness known to politicians.

First of all, in order to understand the situation, it is necessary to realize that Lyndon Johnson, as majority leader of the Senate for several years now, has built up certain personal and political relationships with nearly every senator on the Democratic side.

These reach into the political organizations of the Democratic party in almost every state of the Union.

They mean strength for the Texas senator in the East, the Middle West and West, as well as the South.

Also, in the House of Representatives is Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who is working intensively for Sen. Johnson's candidacy.

The influence of a speaker of the House with as many years of service behind him as Mr. Rayburn has can reach into almost every congressional district represented by a Democrat.

SPEAKER RAYBURN can add thereto the benefit of friendships with some 46 men who now are United States senators but who used to serve under him in the House.

This is a powerful leverage. Gov. Williams of Michigan, Democrat only last Sunday complained that Sen. Johnson was maneuvering for passage or delay of medical-care legislation in the Senate in order to secure co-operation from certain Democratic state delegations.

This has been indignantly denied by Sen. Johnson himself.

It is significant, however, that the Michigan governor made the complaint at all. It shows that the Lyndon Johnson strength is beginning to penetrate the state organizations supposed to be for Sen. Kennedy.

Now, on the opposite side of the political arena, the Kennedy forces are lined up. These comprise organizations, both new and old, in every state.

There are in them members of Congress who may be outwardly friendly to the Massachusetts senator and indeed may have announced publicly their support for him but privately many may be flirting with the Johnson camp.

Thus, in New York State, Carmine de Sario, Tammany leader, who is pledged publicly to support the Kennedy banner, says significantly that Mayor Wagner's name has not been withdrawn as a possible nominee for the vice presidency.

Now, it is obviously impractical for the Democratic ticket to be "Kennedy and Wagner" for both are Catholics and both come from the East.

THE CUSTOM is to pick a vice president from some region other than the one in which the top of the ticket happens to live. So it must be that Mayor Wagner's name is being advanced as a possible running mate for Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

To put someone who is a Northerner and a Catholic on the Johnson ticket is politically logical. It would, for instance, refute talk that the Texas was opposed to a man with Mayor Wagner's "liberal" background.

The Kennedy strategists have the benefit of an early start and plenty of money. This doesn't mean improper use of campaign funds but merely money for publicity and for scouts who go from state to state to win the regular organization men to a candidate's side.

The Kennedy organization is one of the most extensive in the nation has ever seen in a pre-convention contest in the Democratic party.

Intense activity of this kind is usually observed in the Republican ranks, where rival candidates with plenty of financial backing often fight one another.

So, fundamentally, it becomes a struggle between the veterans in Congress who favor Sen. Johnson and those factions of the local organizations which are headed by governors friendly to the candidacy of the Massachusetts senator.

IN THIS BATTLE ROYAL, no other candidate appears today to have a chance. If Sen. Kennedy doesn't make it in three ballots, the nomination would naturally go to the Senate's majority leader.

This correspondent still believes that Sen. Kennedy is ahead and has the momentum to come close to winning on the second ballot but that the ground swell for Lyndon Johnson, which has been growing ever since the international situation became acute in recent weeks, has taken on a new significance.

More and more state leaders, especially members of Congress on the Democratic side, are saying privately that they believe the country will be much more likely to elect a man with the maturity and legislative experience of Sen. Lyndon Johnson than to take a chance on the youth and relative inexperience of the Massachusetts senator.

As for a Johnson - Kennedy ticket — well, that's the one the Democratic politicians today will tell you would be a real vote getter as against a Nixon - Lodge ticket on the Republican side.

Firefly Lights Study

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

The firefly may help light the way toward cures for cancer and muscular dystrophy.

Scientists at John Hopkins University have put a price on the head — or, more literally, the luminous tail — of fireflies. Children in at least five states soon will begin catching hundreds of thousands of them in a worldwide medical research program conducted by the university's school of medicine.

Because it can release energy, luciferin is in great demand in many laboratories for studies into cell activity, studies which hold high priority in the investigation of causes of cancer.

Fearing a deluge of useless insects from eager youngsters, scientists stress that the tails must be carefully preserved in dry ice for shipment to the university. In the firefly headquarters at Johns Hopkins, the insects are dried, ground and processed under carefully controlled conditions to capture the two key substances sought.

They discovered that two key chemicals, luciferase and luciferin, are combined by the insect's own nerve impulses to produce its winking light.

Although science now knows how fireflies light their lamps, we still don't know just why. The main theory is that it is part of an elaborate courtship, with the males colorfully flashing love messages to the females.

Scientists have discovered that fireflies can blink their lights in unison, and synchronize their flashes.

Right now the scientists are preoccupied with obtaining sufficient luciferin to spark the cancer and muscular dystrophy research programs. It takes about 300,000 firefly tails to produce a teaspoonful of medicine.

In addition to Maryland, the program will be conducted in Kentucky, Virginia, Georgia, Indiana and other states.

The Passing Scene:

Demolition of Former News Building Recalls Early Days

Progress in a community brings about changes. Thus, the old Salem News building at 624 E. State St., just west of the Post Office, is being razed to make room for a modern business structure.

The building and the adjacent storeroom which once housed the Grove Electric Co. are being torn down to make way for the erection of a three-storeroom business building by Mrs. Helen Wellman of Girard, who now owns the property.

The former News building was abandoned in 1949 when the News moved to its modern plant, 161 N. Lincoln Ave.

IN HISTORY of the old News building lies the success story of the achievements of the late Louis H. Brush, who on Nov. 24, 1894, bought the controlling interest in the Salem Publishing Company, publishers of The Salem Daily News, now The Salem News, and the Republican Era, a semi-weekly.

At the time Mr. Brush became affiliated with the company its plant was located on the second and third floors of what is now the Moose building several doors west on E. State St.

At the turn of the century the company's expansion plan called for new headquarters. Thus, the building now being dismantled was erected, and to those living in that period it was as much of a community asset as the present Salem News structure is to this generation.

Teachers Must Raise Goals, Says Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The teaching profession must raise its own standards so high that incompetence can never get into a classroom, a prominent educator said today.

Dr. T. M. Stinnett said, "Our goals must be more than just higher salaries and more of this and more of that."

"The profession must do those things which will guarantee that a person who goes into a classroom is a competent teacher, and guarantee that an incompetent person will not be allowed to teach."

Stinnett, executive secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, was interviewed at the annual convention of the National Education Assn.

"We don't have now the sanctions we need. Most states require three years of probationary teaching, but after that it is virtually impossible to get rid of the bad teachers," he said.

Davis, Clark Vows Heard In Damascus Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Douglas Clark are en route to the Lakes of the Ozarks for their wedding trip following their marriage Saturday evening.

The sanctuary of the Damascus Methodist Church was the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Charles Bailey.

The bride is the former Judy Anne Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis of RD 1, Salem. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edna Clark of Enid, Okla., and the late Franklin Clark.

Chancel decorations feature palms, ferns, grape ivy centered with an arrangement of white gladioli, carnations, baker fern and salal. Twin seven-branch candelabra were placed on either side of the altar.

"I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "True Love" were sung by Miss Molinell Culler, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Riesbeck.

A gown of thread lace over taffeta, fashioned with a sabrina neckline, short sleeves and a fitted bodice, was worn by the bride. The floor-length bouffant skirt was designed with a taffeta cummerbund with a back bow, and was worn over an underskirt of tulle ruffles.

Her silk illusion fingertip veil was attached to an orange blossom crown. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, feathered carnations and stephanotis. Her parents gave her in marriage.

Miss Carol Davis was her sister's maid of honor. She was attired in a ballerina-length gown of white nylon organza featuring a mint green cummerbund and a floating back panel.

Appearing in identical gowns only with orchid cummerbunds and back panels were the bridesmaids, Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Robert Talbot, sisters-in-law of the bride. They wore matching headpieces, and carried red baskets of yellow feathered carnations and pink, yellow, orchid and white daisies and bakers fern. The baskets were made by the bride's mother.

David Summers was best man, with William and Robert Davis, brothers of the bride, as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a poudre blue lace over taffeta dress with white accessories, while the embroidered pink linen sheath with pink and white accessories.

Reception is held

Approximately 100 guests greeted the couple at the reception in the social room of the church. The bride's table was decorated with six white tapers in crystal candelabra and four epergne filled with pink and white sweetheart roses and white daisies. A bride and bridegroom figurine topped the three-tiered wedding cake which was surrounded with white malie, fern, pink and white roses and white daisies. Clusters of

One citation was awarded for outstanding poppy sales for the organization, with the honor going to the late Mrs. Carl Deland. The other citation was a community service award earned by the auxiliary.

It was announced that Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. James Rhodes Sr. are delegates to the National VFW Auxiliary Convention Aug. 22-28 in Detroit. Mrs. Fred Snyder and Mrs. Harold Keefer were named alternates.

A social hour followed the business session, when refreshments were served by Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Keefer.

Mrs. Mildred Dimko and Mrs. William Beeson will serve on the lunch committee for the July 11 meeting in the VFW Post Home.

Wed June 18, Couple Ends Honeymoon

George William Reaggle and his bride, the former Miss Carolyn Ruth Sloan are home from a wedding trip to Atlantic City, N.J. Their marriage took place June 18 in St. Patrick's Church, Leetonia.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Sloan of Columbian, and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Julia Reaggle of RD, Columbian, and the late Charles Reaggle.

Grant Sloan gave his sister in marriage. She wore a ballerina length gown on white nylon with scoop neck and three-quarter length sleeves. A white pearl crown held her short veil, and she carried a bridal bouquet of red rosebuds, chrysanthemums and french carnations.

Elizabeth Reaggle, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a blue flowered nylon dress with matching hat and carried white carnations.

James Reaggle, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Gary Sloan, a brother of the bride, and Gregg Long, a cousin of the bride, ushered.

The bride's mother wore a blue and white sheath with blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue flowered dress with white carnations and white accessories.

A reception was held in the American Legion Hall. Pink rosebuds decorated the three-tiered wedding cake served by Mrs. Ruth Long, an aunt of the bride. Mrs. Mary Gabler presided at the coffee service, while Miss Carol Coy was at the punch bowl.

The maid of honor registered the 75 guests from Columbian, Salem, Pandora, Leetonia, Youngstown, North Lima, East Palestine and New Castle, Pa.

The bride was graduated from Columbian High School, Class of 1958, and is employed as a secretary. Her husband, a graduate of Columbian High School, Class of 1959, is now in the Air Force stationed in Iceland.

The bride will reside at 327 S. Main St., Columbian, while her husband is stationed in Iceland as an air policeman for 12 months.

No date has been set for the wedding.

The couple presented gifts to their attendants at the rehearsal party Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Shower Party Held For Janet Johnson

Miss Janet Johnson of Homeworth, bride-elect of Bruce Ruggles of Berlin Center, was honored with a miscellaneous shower at recent pre-nuptial party given by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Allen Lockhart and Miss B. R. Ruggles, at the Lockhart home in Beloit.

Twenty friends and relatives from Homeworth, Salem, Berlin Center and Beloit were in attendance. The buffet table was centered with a tiered cake decorated in pink and blue with bridal dolls on either side.

"Bridebingo" was played with circulating prizes. A special prize went to Mrs. Donald Vickers, and each guest received a favor.

Miss Johnson and Mr. Ruggles will be married July 2 at 2:30 p.m. at Reading Brethren Church, Homeworth. A reception will immediately follow the ceremony at the church.

The wedding will take place Aug. 6 at Avondale Methodist Church, Kansas City, Mo.

Rockefeller

Ident Esenhower's Committee on Traffic Safety, Hearst said in a prepared address that a penny a year per vehicle would produce $700,000 for this purpose.

There was on tap a whole sheaf of proposed resolutions. Among these was one by Gov. G. Menken Williams of Michigan calling on Congress to enact a bill for medical insurance benefits for the elderly within the framework of the social security system.

This put Democrat Williams and Republican Rockefeller in the same anti-administration boat. They saluted each other's position there Tuesday on the issue that this country lacks adequate defenses to offset Soviet military might.

Urging a three-billion-dollar increase in Eisenhower's defense budget, Rockefeller said in a conference report that this country now is "more exposed to fatal danger than ever before in our history."

Kin of Salem Woman Is Killed by Auto

Funeral services are pending for Michael Nevan, 2½ year-old great-great-grandson of Mrs. August Corso Sr. of Salem, who was fatally injured Monday evening when run over by a car in the driveway of his home, 2030 Landay Lane, Farrell, Pa.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Nevan, died in Shenango Valley Osteopathic Hospital 80 minutes after the mishap which apparently occurred when the boy fell from a car, which was slowly rolling out of the family driveway, and under the car's wheels. Police and the coroner are still investigating.

Rotarians See Film, Plan For Installation

George Perrault of the E. W. Bliss Co. showed a film, "The Making of Tin Cans," at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Memorial Building.

A letter from the firm read to Council by Mayor Dean Crammer indicated that "if Council sees fit to have an income tax" Home Savings would act as a receiver.

Norman Eckfeld, manager of the firm's local office, said his firm would accept taxes from employers and other persons in business or professions and transfer the funds to the city treasurer upon request. He said his firm would act only as a depository and not as a collector.

He emphasized that the offer is only in the event the tax is temporary. Mr. Eckfeld explained that the offer is in no way to be construed as his company's support of the tax, but rather should be considered as a public service gesture.

As chairman of the Joint Income Tax Study Committee, Eckfeld indicated he was sorry to find the tax was necessary.

With The Patients

Mrs. Clinton Boals of 373 N. Broadway suffered a fractured right arm in a fall near her home recently.

Glen Robbins of MC 1, Salem, is a patient in the Central Clinic for observation after falling from a horse Sunday.

Mrs. Harold Parker of Southeast Blvd. is a patient in Akron General Hospital for surgical treatment.

Dems Face Split

By JAY G. HAYDEN

Two developments indicate the Democratic party is approaching its truly climatic break—North vs. South.

First, there is Sen. John F. Kennedy's very clear choice to go for the votes of big industrial states of the North and West, in which Negro voters come close to exercising a balance of power. The Massachusetts senator is doing this regardless of Southern consequences.

Lunching at his Georgetown home with a Michigan Democratic group, led by Gov. G. Mennen Williams and including 10 Negroes, last Monday, Kennedy was reported declaring flatly that he would win in November with enough votes from the North and West to make votes from the far South unnecessary. He added that victory on that basis would create a new alignment of political forces in America.

Second, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas is known to be bitterly resentful of the failure of well-off Northern Democrats to back his presidential candidacy—after the praise they heaped on him for his conservative Senate management.

Johnson urged that Council act on his report as soon as possible so that the city might continue to operate with its same personnel and performing the same services as it has in the past. He stated that there were to be no raises in wages throughout the life of the income tax.

In line with the report, he read a letter from the Ohio Edison Co. in which that firm indicated it would operate the city-owned lighting system for about $28,000. Councilman Donald Cannon, head of the street lighting committee, noted this is roughly $8,000 more than the city operates its system for. He indicated at the same time that for the lower sum the city also gets electrical serve in all of its buildings and all properties.

The mayor noted that he never was in support of selling the municipal lighting system, a suggested several months ago by the Joint Income Tax Study Committee. The committee proposed the city sell its lighting system to provide funds for the general operation of the city. In its report it turned down a proposed income tax, stating fundamentally that it was not necessary.

Since then employees in the city's general fund have had to wait on paydays twice because of insufficient funds in the city's operating budget.

North Dakota

when he defeated John Lord, a Democratic attorney, for the governorship.

Two years ago, Davis carried Fargo, the largest city, by 64 per cent; today his margin is 58 per cent in 1958, and 51 per cent today. In Bismarck, the capital, his 1958 edge was 64 per cent as against 62 per cent today.

In short, the governor did not come out of the cities with as long a lead as he was expected to need to offset the farm vote.

Burdick was expected to pull heavily in the rural areas.

He beamed his campaign to sharp and unremitting criticism of Secretary Benson, the farm program, and particularly the soil bank. One of his campaign slogans was "Bet Benson with Burdick."

Davis also spoke out against the soil bank. But it appeared that Burdick seized the issue earlier and more firmly.

10 Motorists Pay County Court Fines

Ten persons paid $241.30 in fines, costs and forfeitures in Judge Luther Donbar's Northwest County Court in recent days.

Paying the stiffer penalty was Lester Gamble of East Liverpool who was fined $104.70 on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

He was also sentenced to County Jail for five days. The arrest was made by State Highway Patrolmen.

Others fined were Kenneth Dozier of RD 2, East Liverpool, $9.70, reckless operation; Arden L. Sauerfeld of Washingtonville Rd., Salem, $13.70, defective muffler; Charles M. Crisan of Cleveland, Shirley Ann Kelin, of East Liverpool, $9.70, crossing a yellow line; Felix Hicks of Summitville, $19.70, no operator's license; James A. Wilson of Sebring, $14.70, fictitious registration; Anna May Karaffe of Mentor, $9.70, crossing a yellow line; Lloyd E. Ebreling of Alliance $14.70, parking on highway.

Forfeiting a $15 bond on a charge of following too close was William N. Cona of Washington, Pa.

The next meeting is July 12.

Castro Rages Against U.S. Sugar Quota

By JAY G. HAYDEN

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro threatened in a towering rage today to seize American investments in Cuba "penny by penny until nothing is left" if the United States cuts its purchases of Cuban sugar.

Castro made this threat to a cheering, post-midnight rally of the giant Sugar Workers' Federation held in Artemisa, 60 miles southwest of Havana. It was his 10th major speech in 24 days and the bitterest anti-American diatribe he has yet delivered.

Second, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas is known to be bitterly resentful of the failure of well-off Northern Democrats to back his presidential candidacy—after the praise they heaped on him for his conservative Senate management.

Johnson urged that Council act on his report as soon as possible so that the city might continue to operate with its same personnel and performing the same services as it has in the past. He stated that there were to be no raises in wages throughout the life of the income tax.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: Recently a woman wrote about her mother-in-law who insists that she frequently receives secret radio messages through her bridge work. The situation became critical when the mother-in-law announced at a dinner party that she was listening to an exchange of secret information between Russia and Red China and wanted to notify the FBI. I suggested psychiatric help.

This is what my mail has been like for the past three days. You can draw your own conclusions. — ANN LANDERS.

The Deluge

Dear Ann: I am a research engineer who wishes to comment on the woman who says she is bringing in radio messages on her bridge work. It is entirely possible that she IS receiving radio programs, but if she's getting Russia, she is the first person in electronic history to bring in overseas signals in this way. — CHARLESTON, W. VA.

Dear Ann: There is an established case of a carbon dioxide worker who retained enough of the dust so that it acted as a detector in his mouth. He had a great deal of gold work, plus a sensitive jaw bone. This man did bring in Station WOR in New Jersey YONKERS, N.Y.

Dear Ann: I'm a ham and hold a second-class radiotelephone license. I've known people who have received radio signals through the fillings in their teeth — particularly when they have two different types of metals in the mouth. The teeth carry the vibrations to the brain by bone conduction, as in a crystalized circuit. — LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Dear Ann: My aunt wore metal frame glasses and used a copper-handled cane to help her get around. She once swore she was receiving radio waves from the planes overhead when she was waiting for me at an airport. — LEXINGTON, KY.

Dear Ann: During the war we had lots of fun listening to radio

Lisbon Social Notes

Pfc. Luther Griggs was honored Sunday when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Griggs, and brothers, Franklin and Sherman of Cream Ridge Rd. entertained with a family get-together. A buffet lunch was served on the lawn at 3:30 to some 130 relatives and friends.

Pfc. Griggs, who attended Lisbon High School and graduated from Beaver Local School, has been stationed in Stuttgart, Germany, with the U.S. Army 4th Division since March 1958. He arrived home by plane June 14 on a 30-day leave and will return to Germany to complete his enlistment until May 1961.

PAST TEMPLARS CLUB was entertained Monday night by Mrs. Viola Reynolds at the home of Mrs. Maude Burton of Caldwell Ave. who was co-hostess.

Games were played with Mrs. Brice Barton winning the prize. Lunch was served by Mrs. Reynolds.

The group will hold a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Margaret Farmer of N. Jefferson St.

Dear Landers: We work in a large office. One employee an "old maid" has a habit of bringing a cake to the office every time someone has a birthday and about twice a week when nobody has a birthday.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Worm Pests Require Preventative Caution

My mailpouch usually includes at least one despising note on the subject of worm infestations (helminthiasis).

This is a great pity in the light of the many important advances that have been made in the treatment of helminthiasis.

Several recently introduced drugs effectively expel worms (vermifuges). Others actually kill them (vermicides, anthelmintics) without causing serious injury to the human host.

In the modern treatment of worm infestations, failures are rarely due to any difficulty in recognizing the kind of worm that's taken up residence in the host's tissues or to lack of strength on the part of the drugs.

IN ALMOST every instance the cause of failure is reinfection of the successfully "wormed" patient who picks up a fresh boarder soon after the former tenant has been dispossessed.

Thus the problem that faces my despairing correspondents is that of learning the habits of their unwelcome wormy "roomer" and, through this knowledge, of finding means for breaking the cycle of infestation, "cure" and reinfection.

Let me give you a few practical examples of how this is done.

The hookworm egg usually enters the tissues of the host through the soles of the feet as the barefoot child or adult walks on soil that has been contaminated by an infected person or animal. Here, the cycle is easily broken by wearing shoes at all times.

THERES A VARIETY of roundworm that gets into our bodies when we eat improperly processed pork and other that enters with the bite of a certain tropical fly.

The cycle is broken in the first of these (trichinosis) by strict supervision of meat processing and in the second (filariasis) by effective use of insecticides.

There's a sort of tapeworm that may be brought into the home by a pet dog. That cycle is broken by worming the dog.

The biggest nuisance of all is getting rid of pin-or seat worms. This is the commonest of all North American infestations. No one really knows how many of our children are made uncomfortable by the itching that's due to deposits of eggs beneath the skin of their tender backsides.

Now IT'S NO great trick for your doctor to prescribe one of several drugs that are death to the tiny worm.

But it's your job to see that the youngster doesn't infect the rest of the household and reinfect himself by scratching.

You may have to keep the nails pared short, stand over youngsters while they scrub hands and nails after visits to the bathroom, provide them with snug night clothes to prevent scratching during sleep, boil their nightclothes and linens before putting them in with the family wash, scrub the toilet seat after they've used it and warn the mothers of any of their itching friends to do likewise.

I'll confess it's an almost endless job. But if you don't do it, you've no right to complain, as many of you do, about your children's restlessness, sleeplessness and bad company manners. For a copy of Dr. Hyman's "ment," send 10 cents to Dr. Hyman, care The Salem News, Box 4, Dept. B, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

FACES GRAND JURY

The case of Richard J. Spencer, 18, of Washingtonville, charged with auto theft, was bound over to the Grand Jury Monday by County Court's Judge Luther Donbar.

He was released on $500 bond. Charges against the youth were filed by Charles J. Mosher Jr. of 696 E. 8th St., owner of the car which police said was taken from the rear of the Memorial Building Saturday morning.

Beaver Booster Club Sets Festival Dates

ROGERS — The annual fall festival was planned for Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 when the Beaver Local Booster Club met Tuesday at the school. Twenty members were present.

President Floyd Wright presided at the meeting and named Mrs. Arthur Cloran and Mrs. Frank Fisher Jr. as chairmen of the festival. Mrs. Everett Hoppel and Mrs. Clark Bookman are in charge of the queen event.

A new project for the club is the erection of a score billboard for the school lawn.

Bruce Costanzo was named membership chairman.

Mr. Wright discussed the athletic programs for the school.

2 DIE, 5 ARE HURT

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Two persons were killed and five others critically injured Tuesday when the car in which they were riding left U.S. 23 about 15 miles north of Portsmouth, flipped over and smashed into a telephone pole in the median strip. Dead are Mrs. Christine Bramman, 32, of Indianapolis, Ind., and her sister, Peggy Thomas, 13, of Sheliaiana, Ky. Injured were the driver of the car and Mrs. Bramman's husband, Hollis, 32, and their four children: Patricia, 15; Deborah, 9; Ceresa, 7, and Hollis Jr., 2.

Fireworks Display Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — A crowd of 200,000 persons is expected Sunday at the 20th annual Festival of Freedom fireworks display. Traffic Commissioner James P. Halloran said there will be 85 additional patrolmen at Edgewater Park to control traffic and spectators.

The fireworks display is scheduled for 9:30 p.m., preceded by a band concert. Halloran has one request for the public: "Get there early." The Coast Guard estimates 2,000 boats will watch the works from Lake Erie.

NO TRUCKS ON ROADS

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Four Lorain County communities have ruled heavy trucks—five tons and over-off county roads which they must maintain. The action by

Avon, Avon Lake, Sheffield and Sherfield Lake has forced the big trucks to go miles out of their way to use state roads.

The big trucks give pavement a bad beating and officials of the communities say there is not enough money for road improvements. The county engineer shifted the maintenance chores earlier this year because the county was deemed short of road repair funds. The communities don't want the extra cost, either.

Today's True Genius

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the head down on the desk, covers it with papers and promptly falls asleep. Anyone passing by thinks he is merely looking for something. His biggest danger: He may start snoring.

The average employee, after he learns his job well, probably spends two hours a day working—and six hours pretending he is working. Some observers insist that first figure may be a bit high. It may seem easy to loaf six hours a day at a desk, but it isn't. The ability to do so is a talent that separates the artist from the amateur.

Here are a few standard types you are almost sure to find in any office:

The bold deceiver—He lays his own time trying to find out how everybody else is wasting time.

The homing pigeon—At least 37 times a day he phones his wife to find out what she's going to have for dinner, how the crab grass is doing, and the baby's latest cute remark. If his home phone is busy, he calls a neighbor and asks if she'll run over and be sure his house hasn't caught fire.

The rumormonger—He goes from desk to desk, pretending to hold conferences, while he whispers the latest gossip: "Did you hear they carried the boss blotto out of the country club again?"

The administrative vacuum—Pressure from below has forced this human zero higher and higher in the organization, as each department finds him incapable of handling any job. Now he's a time study man who wastes his fire.

The savvy statistician—From outward appearances he is studiously bent over figures in a company ledger. But inside the ledger are three racing forms, and a book on "How to Win at Poker."

The reformer—His own work is in a mess because all day long he scribbles down ideas to drop into the office suggestion box. In five years he makes 812 suggestions.

Lions in Africa are reluctant to attack humans; only if frightened or aggravated.

Lincoln Machine Wins 3-2 Over Italian-American Club

Purity Drops
Tavern 7 to 3

Machinists Forced To Overcome Tie

Pace-setting Lincoln Machine used the home run ball in the seventh inning to nip Italian-American Club 3-2 and Purity Dairy handed a badly slipping Carl's Tavern team its fourth straight setback, 7-3, in Class A League softball action Tuesday night at Kelley Field.

In the other game scheduled last night, First Salem won on a profit from H. K. Porter Co. Porter's, which hasn't won a game in 10 tries this season, didn't have enough players to field a team against Salem.

The victory for Lincoln Machine (9-2) put it one game up on Marks Landing (8-2) in the win column but left the Guilford Lake crew in first place by a few percentage points.

First Baseman Eddie Miller of Lincoln Machine poked out the seventh inning home run which broke up the game with Italian-American Club. It snapped a 2-2 tie which had stood since the third frame.

LINCOLN MACHINE tallied single markers in the second and third innings only to see Italian Club bounce back and tie the score with a two-run outburst in the bottom of the third. A walk to Jerry Menichelli and hits by Ray Hertel and Jerry Cosgrove accounted for Italian Club's two runs off Pitcher Judge Guiler. Besides the two hits in the third, a first inning single by Menichelli was the only other base knock given up by Guiler.

Mike Paster buried a seven-hitter for Italian Club but gave up six bases on balls. Two batters who received free passes eventually came home to score for Lincoln Machine.

Miller was easily the hitting star of the game. Besides his game-winning homer, he rapped out a pair of singles in four trips to the plate.

CARL'S TAVERN, which won its first six games of the season, dropped its fourth straight contest last night to Purity Dairy. The Lisbon team led the league for most of the season, but has now dropped into a third-place tie with Purity Dairy, two and a half games behind league-leading Lincoln Machine which has a 9-2 record.

Carl's took a 2-2 lead into the bottom of the sixth last night but blew sky high that frame, allowing Purity Dairy to push across five runs.

Purity lashed out four hits in the sixth and Carl's pitcher Gerry Bryson added fuel to the rally by issuing three free tickets. Don Moulin, Wayne Krabill, Chuck Henderson and Queen all collected singles during the uprising.

John Moulin was touched for 11 hits by Carl's but he kept them scattered effectively and was tight in the clutch. The fact that he didn't walk a batter also helped considerably.

One of the hits off Moulin was a solo homer in the sixth by Les Lanford. Jack Jackson had opened the inning with two base hit but was doubled off second just before Lanford connected for the circuit.

Don Moulin rapped out three of Purity's eight hits off Bryson.

Cleveland Shades Baltimore With 3-2 Win In 11 Innings

Temple's Homer Clinches Game

Stigman Slated for Tonight's Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—If it's true that to win a pennant a team must win more than its share of one-run decisions and extra-innings contests, the Cleveland Indians are on the right path.

With Johnny Temple socking an 11th inning home run Tuesday night, the Indians shaded the Baltimore Orioles 3-2. It was the second straight one-run victory in 11 innings for the Tribe, 7-6 winners over the New York Yankees Sunday.

For the season, this is the Cleveland record in cliffhangers:

Seventeen victories and only nine losses in one-run decisions.

Seven triumphs and three setbacks in overtime contests.

Cleveland remains two games behind the first place Yanks, but has crept up to within 1½ lengths of the runner-up Orioles, whom they play again tonight. Dick Stigman (3-4) is slated to go for the Tribe against Jerry Walker (2-0).

Gary Bell, pitching his best ball in three weeks, had a 2-0 shutout going into the ninth inning Tuesday night. Then he walked Ron Hansen, and Al Pilarcik belted his third homer of the season to tie it 2-2. Johnny Klippstein then went on to pitch three hitless in.

You may have termites
and not even know it!

From their ground nests, termites secretly enter homes to attack wood and other materials. Brick and concrete do not stop these destructive insects.

Have your home inspected—To avoid costly termite damage, phone your local company for a skilled property inspection. You will receive a reliable report and recommendations.

$5000 Insured Protection—Old homes, new homes, and ones under construction are being safeguarded against costly termite damage by the new Bruce-Terminix Insured Plan. Special low-cost protection for homes now free of termites. Phone today for details.

Hot Stove Leagues

The two hottest teams in the Class F Hot Stove League, Farmers Bank and Youngstown Kitchens, will clash head on at Memorial Park at 6 tonight in a make-up game.

Farmers, managed by Ted Berry, is currently leading the loop with an impressive 8-4 record.

Manager Burton Sutter's

Youngstown Kitchens outfit is in second place with a 6-2 mark.

Kitchens got off to a slow start this season, dropping two of its first three games to Farmers and Sekely's. Since then, however, they have been red hot, racking up five consecutive wins.

In their only previous meeting

this year, Farmers Bank beat

Youngstown Kitchens 3-1 although the winners got just one hit and

Kitchens got two in an errorless game.

The same two hurlers who pitched that game, Hilton Moffett of Youngstown Kitchens and George

Begalla of Farmers Bank are the likely starters again tonight since both were given a rest from duty as their teams chalked up easy victories last night.

Tonight's game is a make-up of a contest postponed on June 17.

League President John Herman,

Jr., reports that games played so far this season by Damascus and Letonia teams against Salem

Class E entries will not officially count the loop until the next round starts July 18.

Herman said there is a strong possibility that Greenford will have a team in the Salem Class

E League next season. The loop, which includes boys in the 14-16

age group, currently is operating with four teams.

Class H Commissioner Clarence

Walker has upheld a protest by

Select Dairy and taken away a victory posted earlier this season by Jaycees. Walker ruled that

Jaycees used an average player in a 15-1 win over Select Dairy on June 17.

Both teams involved in the protest now have 1-2 records.

Class F

Farmers Bank and Youngstown Kitchens tuned up for tonight's showdown battle by posting easy victories Tuesday night at Memorial Park.

Farmers clobbered Eljer 16-5 and Youngstown Kitchens dumped Fisher News 7-2. The win for Kitchens elevated that club into second place around Fisher's which dropped its third straight game after six wins.

Winless Eljer committed 10 errors to hand its game on a platter to Farmers. Bink Washington led a nine-hit attack for Farmers with a single and triple in three at bats. He reached base on an error in his other trip to the plate.

The game was halted by darkness in the fifth inning when Farmers had another big rally going.

Hard-hitting George Begalla had left off the inning with a home run and slugged out a single his second trip around when the game was called. Begalla's two hits, as well as three others by Farmers Bank players in the inning, were wiped off the record books since Eljer didn't get a chance to bat in the fifth.

Dyer Scott did the pitching for Farmers, giving up three hits and striking out eight. A double by

The third-place Giants never trailed, but had to scrap for the tie in the ninth to stay within six games of Pittsburgh. The Pirates

Pirates, Giants Tie At 7-7; Braves, Phillies Are Winners

By The Associated Press

Either the Pittsburgh Pirates are running into trouble, or they're running in luck, which isn't as contradictory as it sounds.

Manager Danny Murtaugh has gone with three of his top four starting pitchers in the last three games and hasn't won any of them. But the Bucs have lost only one game off their lead.

After Vern Law and Bob Friend were beaten in a doubleheader loss to Chicago's Cubs Sunday, southpaw Harvey Haddix was chased in a four-run first inning Tuesday night. But the Pirates times battled from behind and came off with a 7-7 tie against San Francisco in a rain-interrupted game ended by curfew after nine innings.

Second-place Milwaukee moved within 2½ games of the leaders with a comeback, 5-3 victory over the Cubs. Cincinnati jumped past St. Louis into fourth place by clobbering the Cards 10-4. Seventh-place Philadelphia made it eight out of 10 with a 2-0 job on Los Angeles as Dallas Green allowed the Dodgers only three hits for his first victory and complete game in the majors.

In the American League, the New York Yankees gained a half-game lead, beating Kansas City 5-2 while Cleveland defeated second-place Baltimore 3-2 in 11 innings. Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 14 innings. Detroit belted Boston 10-1.

The third-place Giants never trailed, but had to scrap for the tie in the ninth to stay within six games of Pittsburgh. The Pirates for the Braves. He drove in three runs, beating Glen Hobbie (6-10) with his solo sixth home run in the sixth inning after his two-run double had tied it 3-all in the third.

A five-run first inning, capped by Ed Bailey's one-on homer, got the Reds rolling at St. Louis against loser Ron Kline (3-7). Jim O'Toole (6-7) was the winner, but needed relief help from Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry.

Green, 24, a 6-foot-5 right-hander from Buffalo, allowed the Dodgers only a third-inning single by Don Demeter, a double by Charlie Neal in the fourth and a ninth-inning single by Norm Larker.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Some friendly enemies of Dwight D. Eisenhower have been told that he probably would accept their social invitation to dine with them at Washington's Hotel Statler-Hilton tonight. The party is non-political. But the after dinner talk will have it that the President gave the nod that evening to Richard Nixon's next running mate—Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell.

The banquet was cooked up by two of Jim Mitchell's friends as a farewell testimonial to him by all labor. Those two were Mr. Labor Lawyer, Art Goldberg, and the Electrical Brotherhood's leader, Joe Keenan.

Goldberg telephoned Keenan some weeks ago and suggested the soiree. The two lunched together and decided to call a number of union chiefs.

Each man got the same set of replies. "For Jim personally, yes. For Jim politically, no."

All but one influential labor official agreed to sign the invite. The loner was the Machinists Al Hayes whose followers had been striking the nation's missile bases.

JIM MITCHELL would not like to say farewell to Washington or his powerful union friends there. He's been President Eisenhower's labor policy maker—and Dick Nixon's, too—since 1953.

He hasn't exactly had the seven-year itch for the vice presidency. But his is an avowed candidate who has worked hard to show that Nixon would not need to retain Dio-genes to search for an honest running mate.

Mitchell's friends point out that he has never take a dollar for a speech of a article. He drives a '53 automobile. He travels within his $25 a day government allowance.

When he addressed the AFL-CIO San Francisco convention last September, he refused the usual hotel suite proffered to prominent guest speakers. Instead he and two aides shared the tab on some rooms at the Hotel Fairmount.

He makes his own reservations. When he got down to Miami Beach to speak at the Operating Engineers convention in April, he found the labor chiefs in a lush solid "Gold Coast" hotel.

There the rooms ran from $50 a day. Mitchell and an aide made their way down beach where the gold thins out to tin plate. They put up in a motel for 12 bucks a day.

Nixon needs a man who can pull strong, in the East. Until recently, the talk was for U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Then Nelson Rockefeller began attacking.

Nixon took another look at New York and its labor. So did Mitchell's friends. They pointed to the labor secretary's home in New York weeks ago. Mitchell openly battled and defeated a Goldwater-for-vice president resolution.

IN THE CORRIDORS of the convention building there were buttons and booths for Goldwater. Mitchell got up for the keynote speech. Without mentioning the Arizona leader, he lashed at Goldwater's policies.

He then called for the nomination of Dick Nixon. This was endorsed by acclamation. When Goldwater's supporters offered their resolution, it was beaten. Talk of Mitchell for vice president began whipping up.

Whether Mitchell discussed the anti-Goldwater move with Nixon is not known. But what is certain is Mitchell's talk with the vice president about the vice presidency.

Nixon strategists know, of course, that their biggest problem is carrying New York—without which presidential candidate has won only once.

Nixon needs a man who can pull many of those who criticized labor.

One of those he fought right down the line has been the knowledgeable Sen. Barry Goldwater. Thus, during the Republican state convention in Spokane, Wash., some days ago, Mitchell openly battled Jersey and his influence in New York labor circles. This they said could neutralize Rockefeller's appeal.

Then came word of the labor banquet honoring Mitchell less than a month before the national GOP convention.

To many it appeared that the union chiefs were moving the labor secretary into first place in the race for the second place.
